Purpose Statement

This Notice clarifies the meaning of Coexilian identity and explicitly prevents misrepresentation, false-flag actions, and attribution of individual behavior to Coexilia as a framework. It exists to reduce misclassification, escalation risk, and collective attribution under conditions of identity ambiguity.

Scope of Applicability

This Notice applies to any individual or system that encounters, references, or evaluates claims of Coexilian alignment. It does not create membership, credentialing, authority, or enforcement.

Non-Authority Declaration

This document asserts no jurisdiction, confers no rights or obligations, authorizes no enforcement, and creates no hierarchy. Interpretation shall always favor autonomy, voluntariness, neutrality, and individual behavioral assessment.

Relationship to Other Coexilian Documents

This Notice operates alongside, but does not modify or override:

The Coexilian Codex 2.0

The Coexilian Appeal

The Coexilian Privacy Directive

CACI v1.0 — The Coexilian Accord for Coexistence & Intelligence

Purpose

This Notice clarifies the meaning of Coexilian identity and explicitly prevents misrepresentation, false-flag actions, and attribution of individual behavior to Coexilia as a framework.

Identity Clarification

1. The term "Coexilian" describes a personal alignment with Coexilian principles.
2. It does not constitute membership, credentialing, certification, authorization, or trust designation.
3. Use of the term conveys no special status, authority, or legitimacy.

Non-Representation

1. No individual, group, organization, system, or state may claim to represent, speak for, or act on behalf of Coexilia.
2. No action taken by any person or entity may bind Coexilia or be attributed to it as collective intent.

3. Coexilia does not delegate authority and does not recognize representatives.

Behavioral Evaluation

1. Actions shall be evaluated on their own merits, independent of any claimed identity or affiliation.
2. Claimed alignment with Coexilia shall not be treated as evidence of intent, trustworthiness, or authorization.
3. Harmful, coercive, deceptive, or violent actions are incompatible with Coexilian principles regardless of claimed identity.

Bad-Faith Disavowal

Actions that violate non-coercion, autonomy, neutrality, or non-hostility are incompatible with Coexilian principles and do not gain legitimacy through claimed Coexilian alignment.

Non-Exclusivity

This Notice imposes no obligations and creates no enforcement. Alignment is voluntary, revocable, and non-exclusive.

Canonical Status

This document is an official Coexilian declarative notice. The text is fixed at Version 1.0. Future clarifications, if any, shall be issued as separate notices or addenda and shall not alter the original text.

Licensing

Interpretation and Integrity

This Notice shall not be interpreted as law, command, policy, or enforcement mechanism. Any attempt to weaponize or impose this Notice as authority invalidates such use.

Archival Intent

This document is intended for long-term public preservation and reference across archival, academic, and educational repositories.

Closing Notice

This Notice creates no obligations and offers no guarantees. It exists solely to prevent misrepresentation, collective attribution, and identity-based escalation.
